SHARE YOUR "TRIP STORY"

WHY IT MATTERS

Sharing your motivation for service can be a great way to connect with your loved ones. Offering them a way to directly participate in your trip can further deepen this connection. The "Trip Story" URL that is created through Go Method makes sharing your story as simple as sending a link!

HOW IT HAPPENS

Under the "Trip Story" tab on your Go Method profile you will see an empty text box. Write a message to your community about where you are serving and why you are serving. Ask your community to contribute to your trip and encourage them to follow your journey.

If you need help thinking of what you want to say, take a look at this Fundraising Letter Template. Edit and add to it in order to personalize your story.

NEXT STEPS

1. Reflect on WHY you've signed up to serve. What's motivating you to serve others and share this experience with your team?
2. Write your trip story and share WHY you've decided to serve.
3. Share your "Personal Support Page" with your family, friends, and communities through email, text, and social media!

Dear Friends and Family,

I've been blessed with an exciting opportunity to participate on a short-term service trip to Costa Rica!

On November 5th, I will be traveling with a team from Here For Kids International (hereforkids.org). HFK is a nonprofit focused on teaching the eternal joy of service while serving the kids and the people who care for them. On this trip we are partnering with Roble Alto, which provides physical and spiritual care for orphaned and abandoned children in Costa Rica.

While in Costa Rica, we will be spending our time doing a variety of service projects, including sports camps, medical clinics, and construction projects. My hope is that you will join me on this journey!

Here are a couple of ways that you can support my trip: 1. Please be praying for our team as we prepare to travel. 2. If you are feeling called, you can also support my trip financially. The total cost is $1,500 which covers everything associated with my trip. This includes the flights, food, accommodation, transportation, excursion, project costs, and a donation to the partner site to support the children. You can donate here on my personal funding page. All donations are tax-deductible.

Thank you so much for your consideration in supporting my trip. I look forward to seeing the impact that this will have on the community we serve and on my life!

With love and appreciation,

Vicki

Many of you know that I have kids all over the world, and after 2 long covid years away, it is time for me to visit my Peruvian kids again! I will be leading a team of adults with Here For Kids International to Lima, Peru. There we will spend the week connecting with each other and the children who live at the local children's home. Our days will be filled with sports, games, arts/crafts, and more. If you would like to support my trip financially, there is a direct link to donate on this page. I will also be posting a list of donation items that you can sponsor financially or purchase yourself that will go directly to the children at the home I will be serving in (contact me to coordinate pick-up/drop-off. I am currently in Utah). Thank you for all of your love and support!
